

Author A.C. Frieden Researches a New Thriller in Paris

PARIS, France (Sept. 5, 2013) – Novelist A.C. Frieden arrived in Paris, France, to continue his research on a manuscript in progress and to scout scenes for his yet-unnamed new thriller series. “Paris is by far my favorite large city, and not because I’m a Francophile,” Frieden said. “It’s because it has a vibe, history, sophistication and charm that makes me feel like I belong here, as if it were my true home. I think this is about my twentieth trip here over the last two decades.”

(Above) A.C. Frieden at the Arc de Triomphe, near the Champs-Elysées.

Frieden’s research in the city focused on three government buildings: the Hotel de Ville (city hall), the Ministère de la Culture (Ministry of Culture) and the future headquarters of the Ministère de la Defense—the French “Pentagon”—currently under construction in the Balard area, in southwestern Paris. In addition, Frieden explored various areas of the 4th and 3rd Arrondissements that he hadn’t previously seen. All these areas are important to Frieden’s new thriller series as well as for a current work-in-progress for his Jonathan Brooks thriller series.

(Above, left) A.C. Frieden at Paris' city hall; (Above, right) The Saint-Germain-des-Prés neighborhood.

(Above) Beautiful apartments in the 4th Arrondissement.

About the author: A.C. Frieden is a Chicago-based author, lawyer, pilot, divemaster and former army sniper and biologist. He writes the Jonathan Brooks thriller series, published by Avendia Publishing (print) and Down & Out Books (ebooks). For more info, visit www.acfrieden.com.

All images Copyright © 2013 A.C. Frieden and/or applicable licensors. All rights reserved. Reproduction and/or use of photos are permitted only if published in the connection with the content of this press release or for literary critique purposes. Otherwise, prior written consent is required. Except as expressly stated otherwise, nothing in this press release shall imply any endorsement, sponsorship or other support by or for any third party.

To contact the author, visit his official website or email his publishers:

Avendia Publishing
Email: media@avendiapublishing.com

Down & Out Books
Email: info@downandoutbooks.com